Subject: Invitation to Participate and Call for Abstracts for the 4th Law CMU International Conference

Dear Esteemed Scholars, Researchers, and Practitioners,

It is with great pleasure that we extend this formal invitation to you to participate in the 4th Law CMU International Conference, hosted by the Faculty of Law, Chiang Mai University. The conference will be held onsite on November 20, 2026, in the beautiful city of Chiang Mai, Thailand.

This year's conference theme is “Global Perspectives on Social Justice and Sustainability: Challenges, Innovations, and Partnerships.” In an era of unprecedented global shifts, this pivotal conference aims to foster a critical dialogue on the intricate connections between social justice, legal frameworks, and sustainable development. We seek to explore challenges, showcase innovations, and forge partnerships that can shape a more equitable and sustainable world.

We are now officially accepting abstracts for paper presentations. Submissions from academics, legal practitioners, policymakers, and postgraduate students are welcome. While we are particularly interested in papers that align with our sub-themes, we encourage submissions on any topic relevant to the broader conference theme.

- Human Rights, Environmental Law, and Inclusive Access to Justice
- Energy, Conflict, and the New World Order
- Business & Sustainable Economies
- AI, Innovation & Technology: Impacts & Social Changes
- ASEAN's Role in Global and Regional Partnerships

We also accept papers on all other related socio-legal topics.

Important Deadline (GMT +7)

Beyond the academic sessions, we are delighted to inform you that your visit will coincide with one of Thailand's most breathtaking celebrations. The Loy Krathong (Yi Peng) Festival in Chiang Mai is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, November 24, 2026. Following the conference, we highly encourage you to extend your stay to personally experience this "Festival of Lights". You will have the opportunity to immerse yourself in the enchanting atmosphere, admire the international-standard decorations across the city, and enjoy various traditional activities at your own leisure. It is a perfect chance to explore the charm of Chiang Mai beyond the conference halls.
